Global & User Based Email Signatures

Policy Patrol allows you to define global signatures that are added to every email, and user-based signatures that are only added to emails from specified users, groups, domains or LDAP queries.

Internal & External Email Signatures

Since Policy Patrol can distinguish between internally and externally sent mails, different signatures and disclaimers can be added to each.

Formatted Signatures With Pictures & Tables

Policy Patrol comes with an HTML editor that allows you to include formatting, (embedded) images, and tables in your signature. Emails can also be formatted with HTML stationery.

Active Directory Merge Fields

Email signatures can automatically be customized by making use of Active Directory merge fields (such as name, phone number and title). You can also insert personalized images and links from AD, for instance to add photos, bio links and LinkedIn profiles. A useful preview tool lets you preview the user's AD information in the template.

Utilize Marketing Opportunity

Since Policy Patrol allows you to update your email signatures centrally, it is easy to include information about upcoming events, awards and company news. If you have several promotions running at the same time, Policy Patrol can randomly add one of the banners to each email.

Disclaimers & Signature Postioning

Policy Patrol can place the signature and disclaimer after the most recently entered message text on replies and forwarded messages. This avoids all the signatures being added to the bottom of the email.

Add Different Signatures on Replies

Policy Patrol allows you to add a more extensive signature on your first email (for instance including your complete address) and then a shorter one on each following email.

Avoiding Multiple Disclaimers & Signatures

By searching messages for an existing disclaimer or signature, Policy Patrol can avoid adding another footer when replying or forwarding.

Condition Based Disclaimers

Disclaimers can be added or suppressed depending on certain conditions such as a word in the subject or body, a particular sender or recipient or the existence of an attachment or header.

See Disclaimers and Signatures in Sent Items

Policy Patrol can automatically update a user's Sent Items in Outlook to show the disclaimer and signature that was added.

Support for All Email Clients & Mobile Devices

Policy Patrol can add footers to emails sent from any email client including mobile devices such as iPhone, iPad, and Blackberry.
